DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

Vol. V.

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1910.

No. 48

Tropico and Glendale are practically one community joining Los Angeles City on the north; the former five and the latter six miles in a direct line from the Court House in Los Angeles. Glendale is an unincorporated city, the population with about 2700 population. Pacific Electric cars leave Sixth street depot half hourly. Eagle Rock cars leaving Twelfth and Broadway every half hour continuing at Eagle Rock with car for Glendale. Rapidly increasing in population and importance. Schools, churches, fraternal societies, business establishments and all the accessories of an up-to-date suburban community.

MASS MEETING AT HIGH SCHOOL

A False Alarm Arouses the Suburbanites Anti-annexationists Turn Out in Force

But there are others

There was a mass meeting held at the High School auditorium last Friday evening, which was really worth reporting. The meeting was called and the hall engaged by the committee appointed by the board of trade to arrange for a celebration to be given upon the completion of the municipal lighting system in Glendale some time next month, the object being to secure an expression from the people as to whether they desired such a celebration or not. The Los Angeles Times Friday morning contained an announcement under Glendale correspondence to the effect that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the question of adding outside territory to Glendale's corporate limits. This announcement was taken so seriously by some public spirited citizen outside the city's western boundary, that in emulation of Paul Revere he took to horse, metaphorically anyhow, and rode through the settlement warning the natives of impending doom and calling upon them to rally at the meeting place and save themselves from all the threatened horrors impending over their happy homes. They rallied and then they rallied some more so that when a score of Glendale's more or less prominent citizens arrived on the scene in the dusk of the evening they found the hall filled and the corridors crowded with lusty patriots ready to do verbal battle in the holy cause. It devolved upon Mr. H. P. Coker, as president of the board of trade, to call the meeting to order, which he did in a perfectly fearless manner notwithstanding the unmistakable prevalence of an atmosphere of hostility. Mr. Coker explained the situation lucidly and announced that as there was such a small proportion of Glendale city people present, the meeting as originally called would stand adjourned so that the populace from the West Side might debate the important matter which they had met to discuss. The chairman then called upon several distinguished and hefty citizens from various parts of the valley to occupy seats of honor upon the platform, the most of them accepting. Thus fortified he called for speeches upon the subject of "annexation." Edgar Leavitt, Esq., started the ball rolling by offering a motion to the effect that it was the sense of the meeting that the city of Glendale annex all adjacent territory, or just as much as possible, or something of that sort, and the fight was on. Trustee Blackburn stated the position of the city trustees by quoting a "but willin'" resolution recently adopted by that honorable body. About this time, Mr. Wolf who had just awakened from a hypnotic spell, arose to a point of order, with the incendiary proposition that the meeting should elect a chairman. The chair ruled the gentleman out of order, but finally allowed him to nominate a citizen whose name escaped the reporter's ear; but anyhow, the gentleman nominated arose from a point of vantage near a rear window and declined the honor. There followed some more delightfully informal talk, after which Mr. Coker and fellow citizens on the platform stepped down. This did not stop the wheels from going round, however, for Mr. Warren Story of West Fourth street remained, and Mr. Story can do a good deal towards filling a platform all by himself. Mr. Story had an anti-annexation speech ready which he proceeded to deliver. It was a good speech from that point of view and won applause, and Mr. Story would have delivered it just the same had the heavens fallen and then tumbled again. He wanted to go into Los Angeles when he went anywhere and he intended to go for a five-cent car fare, which he surely would if annexed to that magnificent city, sir! He wanted more water, wanted the whole Owens river in fact, for "Glendale only had enough water to reach to Brand boulevard." Glendale would some day need a sewer system and could get connection only with the Los Angeles sewer. San Fernando road should be paved and would be if Glendale let it alone. Nothing could be gained from Glendale except an increase in taxes. Then when the applause died down, Mr. Story, as self-appointed chairman, called upon Mr. Oliver of North Glendale for a speech. Mr. Oliver as a large property owner was perfectly satisfied with things as they were. Mr. Wolf then took the floor (metaphorically again) and wanted to know a few things; he had attended a meeting of the Glendale Improvement Association and found it to be a one-sided affair; everybody there had spoken in favor of annexation, the opposition was not given a chance to be heard. Mr. Wolf declared that as far as the argument went that offered better streets if his section came into Glendale, it was of no avail, for they didn't want better streets if they had to pay for them. After Mr. Wolf had delivered his oration, Mr. Hopping again called attention to the fact that the meeting had no chairman and endeavored to repair this little information by nominating Mr. Nesbit. This started Mr. Story again and before anyone could put the motion it was forgotten in the press of more weighty matters and the flood of eloquence went on unrestrained. So far the forensic combat had been rather one-sided except for a pertinent question and now again through at the speakers, but at this juncture Mr. F. L. Muhleman of Lomita Park arose, threw oil upon the troubled waters and then proceeded to set forth in a very clear manner some of the reasons which influenced him in the belief that the "Greater Glendale" idea was proper and worthy of serious consideration. He pointed to the fact that in Glendale city the minimum for electricity is half a dollar lower than on the outside and quoted figures to show that it is very probable that the municipal lighting will be such a success that it will pay its own way and be no expense to property owners. He pointed to the good streets made possible only by incorporation, spoke of the ease with which Brand Boulevard could be opened through if Tropico was a part of Glendale and possessed of the legal machinery for accomplishing things. Under present conditions no one can be compelled to make improvements for the common welfare, in an incorporated city all of these things are made possible. He alluded to the consolidation of Hollywood and Los Angeles, and said that there were special reasons why that action might be desirable as far as Hollywood was concerned, but it did not follow that the same application could be made to this section where we are in a position to give more than we should receive by such a union. As for a five-cent car fare he did not believe it could be secured. Had not heard that the fare between San Pedro and Los Angeles had been reduced since consolidation. If a five-cent car fare did follow it would mean small cars and poor service. Councilmen in Los Angeles are elected at large, what voice would this section have in the administration of the government of that city if made a part of it? After Mr. Muhleman concluded, Mr. Palanconi was introduced by Mr. Story as a large property owner and expressed himself as satisfied with things as they are. Mr. Hahn then helped him to what remained of the floor (metaphorically again) and spoke fluently and pathetically of the glory of belonging to a big city; he wanted to become a part of Los Angeles for reasons too numerous to mention, but he made a more or less successful attempt to enumerate some of them. There was still no chairman of the meeting but in some manner a motion prevailed to adjourn and peace followed in the sable garments of the night (poetry) settled down over the scene with the outlanders still unannexed.

MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN

No Excitement—The Candidates

There is no excitement yet visible over the coming municipal campaign, although here and there one occasionally runs across an under current. The time has passed for any new candidates to get into the contest and the time for new registrations has also closed. The two tickets in the field stand as follows:

CITIZENS' PARTY.

Trustee, four-year term, John R. White, Jr., 508 S. Brand boulevard, occupation, merchant.

Trustee, four-year term, Jos. P. Shropshire, 445 Everett street, occupation, contractor.

Trustee, two-year term, Louis E. Brockman, 423 E. 2d St., occupation, banker.

City Clerk, G. B. Woodberry, incumbent.

Marshal, Richard Pierce, 216 Cedar St., occupation, drayman.

Tax Collector and Treasurer, H. G. Dominy, 614 Brand boulevard, occupation, carpenter.

The above is the only party in the field, all the others being independent nominations. The ticket selected for support by the Improvement Association is as follows:

Trustee, four-year term, J. R. White.

Trustee, four-year term, H. P. Coker, 126 E. Third street, occupation, merchant.

Trustee, two-year term, O. A. Lane, 1017 Chestnut street, occupation, real estate.

City Clerk, G. B. Woodberry.

Marshal, Harry M. Miller, incumbent.

Tax Collector and Treasurer, H. G. Dominy.

Voters are reminded that the proposition to pay the trustees each three dollars for every meeting attended, is also to be voted upon at the same time they vote on the city officers. A suggestion that is worth considering is that this body meet only once in a fortnight instead of weekly as at present. If the candidates for this place are willing to agree to this before the election it is probable that the people will support the pay proposition. The business of the city is now down to a routine basis and it would seem that weekly meetings are not required. We shall have more news on this head with the outlanders still unannexed.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS

Get Ready to Vote

On Friday next, April 1st, there will be elections held for trustees of both Grammar and High School districts. By agreement between the two boards, both elections in Glendale will be held at the same place (Sixth Street Grammar school) and with the same sets of officers. The polls for the High School election will be open from 9 to 6 o'clock and for the Grammar school from 1 to 6 p.m. The law does not require the publication of notices of these elections, on the close corporation principle which prevails in high educational circles, but notices must be posted somewhere in the districts.

In the grammar school district, the retiring trustees are Mr. G. E. Williams and Mr. H. G. Dominy, who we understand are willing to continue service if re-elected.

The law has been changed in regard to the selection of high school trustees who do not now have to be chosen by districts but may be elected at large. A suggestion which appears entirely fair is that two trustees be elected from Glendale grammar school district, one from West Glendale, one from Tropico and one from Eagle Rock; as there are five to be chosen and the other grammar school districts which are a part of the Union High school district contribute very few pupils to the school. The names mentioned as far as we have heard are E. D. Goode (incumbent) and C. O. Pulliam, Glendale; Dan Campbell, West Glendale; E. W. Richardson, Tropico; Mr. Pitman, Eagle Rock.

Valley Supply Co. will save you money on Poultry Food, Hay, Grain, Wood, Coal, Ice. Sunset 1811: Home 192.

CONTEST NEWS.

We have a new contestant to reckon with, boys. His name is Edmund Mofat, and he will represent Tropico. So look out, Gerald, for he is going after the new ones too. The standing this week is as follows:

Howard McGillis	6760
Lorin Litchfield	3740
Geo. Grist	1350
Gerald Kirkham	1500
Lisle Johnson	830
Edmund Moffat	400
Chester Nichols	110

Howard McGillis wins the special prize for the week ending last Wednesday. If you can't win first prize, boys, try for the special prizes. Enter now, as there is only five weeks more.

THE LIBRARY

Glendale, Cal., March 10, 1910.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie: Dear Sir—The Glendale library board of trustees has recently requested your New York secretary for blanks necessary to be used by our city in making formal application for a Carnegie library, which substantial and enduring monuments to your wisdom and generosity are liberally scattered throughout this state.

The members of the Glendale library board desire to state that they will esteem it an honor should you find it convenient to do so, if you will visit Glendale for a few hours and take an airing ride through our beautiful city and country.

Very truly yours,
By the President, A. L. BRYANT.

LILLIAN S. WELLS,
Secretary of Board.

"Mr. Carnegie requests me to thank you for your very kind invitation to visit Glendale, and to assure you that he would be much pleased to do so if time would permit. Unfortunately, however, his engagements in Southern California are so numerous that he cannot increase their number.

"Please be kind enough to convey to the members of your board an expression of Mr. Carnegie's thanks, and believe me,

"Yours very truly,

"GEORGE E. HALE."

It was the board's intention to have Mr. Carnegie come to Glendale and to pass a day among the flowers and sunshine of our little city. If they could have succeeded in this they were positive that it would do a great deal toward making the money-man see that this is the best spot on earth to plant one of his libraries.

Even though Mr. Carnegie could not come, it is possible for our city to have this coveted library building. All that is necessary is for some public-spirited citizen, one of those who have so much land here that they could spare two or three lots and never feel it, to donate to the library board a small piece of land, free from encumbrance. Another requisite is that the city provide yearly for maintenance a sum equal to one-tenth of that contributed by the donor. At present something more than $1000 is paid yearly for this library work.

The people of Glendale should wake up to the fact that we have a library. One who knows, said to the writer recently:

"It is surprising but true that there are people in Glendale who do not know that we have a library. And those who have heard a rumor to that effect, do not know where it is located and what days it is open."

Let's get together, for we need a library building, and need it badly.

MAIDS AND MATRONS.

This auxiliary of the Country Club held its regular monthly meeting last Monday afternoon and offered to members and guests a delightful program which was in charge of Mrs. Dan Campbell:

Mr. Johnson played several fine selections on the violin, accompanied by Miss Ina Whitaker on the piano. Mrs. Nanno Wood, dressed in Irish peasant costume, gave a number of Irish songs and recitations. Her rendering of "Shamus O'Brien" thrilled her audience and was made more interesting by her comments on this famous character in Irish history. Mrs. Campbell was assisted in entertaining by Miss Penn and Miss Ina Whitaker. Refreshments were served.

There was much amusement furnished by a "Limerick" contest in which the contestants were to add in the final fifth line. Mrs. J. C. Sherer won the prize, a beautiful Irish green pig with a sprig of shamrock on its back and a dainty handkerchief within.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The Tuesday afternoon club met in regular session March 22 in Guild hall. During the business session the president announced that our club would be represented at the California Federation of Women's Clubs convention at Santa Barbara in April by Mrs. Mary H. Ridley. At the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention at Cincinnati in May by Mrs. L. C. Rice. After the business the afternoon was turned over to Mrs. R. E. Chase, chairman of the day, the program being under the heading of modern drama. Mrs. Chase had secured the services of Mrs. Goldsmith (Lillian Burkhardt) for the afternoon. It is needless to say for those who have had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Goldsmith that she held her audience spellbound during the rendition of her program. The first play was "Margo" by Herman Sudermann, and the second one was "Catherine Ni Houlihan," by Yates. These plays are well worth listening to and each and everyone felt amply repaid for coming. The next program will be at night and will be given by the Chamber of Commerce. Don't forget the date, April 12-13.

GAS COMING

As we go to press Thursday evening, the Domestic Gas Company has its six-inch main pipe laid out as far as the Los Angeles city limits and is continuing on towards Tropico and Glendale at the rate of 2000 feet a day.

The ditch is being excavated by a machine that digs from 200 to 250 feet of ditch an hour. This is preceded by the distributors of pipe and followed by a gang of men who place the pipe as fast as the ditch is excavated.

The W. C. T. U. society held an all-day meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Hattie Gaylord, 234 First street. Friday evening of last week the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Hattie Gaylord; vice president, Mrs. S. E. Brown; treasurer, Mrs. Elias Ayers; secretary, Mrs. Dick.

The next regular meeting of this society will be held at the home of Mrs. Fitch, corner Second and Isabelle streets next Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Nanno Woods and husband (Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Woods) of Milford street have issued invitations to a card party on Friday evening, March 25th. Among those invited are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Blue, Mr. and Mrs. Vold, Mr. and Mrs. Hillier, Mr. and Mrs. Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Farron, Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Gridley, Miss Bacheller, Miss Anderson, Messrs. Warwick, Pratt and Anderson.

THE CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Special Easter music. Song service in the evening. Morning sermon on "The Power of Christ's Resurrection."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

There will be services as usual, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Utter. At eleven o'clock will be a special Easter service, with special music. The feature of the day will be the ordinance of Baptism and the reception of new members. Everybody is cordially invited to attend all of the services of the church.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

Dr. F. D. Mather, district superintendent, will preach Sunday morning; the Sunday school will render an Easter program in the evening.

"Christ's Resurrection and the Christian's Conception of Life," the subject of the Epworth League meeting, Rom. 6:8-11. Leaders, Lillian Ward and Mrs. W. L. Hovis. Lesson for prayer meeting, Matt. 9:18-24.

Prof. Thos. B. Stowell of University of Southern California will speak at the Easter service in the evening. The orchestra will play.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

For a few weeks until the arrival of the new rector whom the bishop has called to the work, the mission will be in charge of the Rev. A. G. L. Trew, D.D., who will officiate at the special Easter services next Sunday.

Morning prayer, sermon and Holy Communion at 11 a.m. Evening service at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Morris, president of the Altar Guild, will be thankful to members of the congregation who can spare calla lilies, if they will send them, with appropriate foliage, to the church not later than 12 noon on Saturday for the Easter decorations.

PRACTICAL CHRISTIANITY CENTER.

Meetings at 432 West Fourth street as follows:

Sunday school at 3 o'clock. Bible class giving spiritual interpretation of the International Sunday School lessons taught by Miss Suzanne Dean of Los Angeles.

GLENDALE, CAL., MARCH 25, 1910

Roosevelt has cabled ex-Forester Pinchot to join him in London. Does this indicate that Teddy is going to "take to the woods?"

Nine members of the city council of Pittsburgh have confessed to the acceptance of bribes and that body is left without a quorum. This almost makes San Francisco look virtuous.

Oh, Jupiter Pluvius Plu,
'Twas extremely kind of you
This moisture to send
At the dry winter's end
And of crokers to kill off a few!

There is to be a national egg-laying contest held in Mexico, Missouri, next November. Details have not reached us, but the hens have no doubt been informed by wireless, for the product of eggs in the last three days has fallen off perceptibly, which shows conclusively that the hens are going to save their energies and their eggs for the contest.

The genial "Laird of Skibo," otherwise plain Andrew Carnegie, is the guest of Southern California, and while he is with us at least, may his shadow not grow less. He is one of the wealthiest men in the world, but his wealth has not tainted his blood nor robbed his system of the milk of human kindness. He is a living example of the possibilities of success to be achieved by the poorest boy in the land. He had, nay, of the help to success which are now handed out in such generous profusion to the pampered school boys of today. The wealth he possesses was not fished from others, but was as nearly a creation as the work of man can be and the world was enriched when it came into his hands. He took from the bowels of earth the raw material from the Creator's hand and converted it into the finished product for the use of man. Carnegie is a benefactor of the race and the pleasures of the world have not yet palled upon his appetite—may he enjoy them to the end.

ABOUT PRIZE FIGHTS.

If all other evidence was lacking to show that our civilization is only skin-deep, it is afforded by the fact that thousands of people went to a Los Angeles suburb the other day to see a prize fight fought to a finish and imagined that the thing was "sport." That such a brutal contest should be permitted with the sanction of the officers of the law, is a reflection upon us as a people. Presumably the district attorney and the sheriff of Los Angeles county, excuse themselves from interfering with such an exhibition on the ground that there is no state law prohibiting it. But we believe that either of these officials, or both of them acting together, could find ample excuse for interfering with such a brutal contest if they desired to do so. A policeman who finds two men fighting on the street recognizes the act as a breach of the peace and acts promptly in putting them under arrest, even though the contest has not the brutal features of the Vernon fight. It is a travesty of the law to say that a contest between two men where the object of each is to knock the other senseless, is legitimate because it is classified as a sport, while the rough and tumble fight is a crime!

Our next legislature will consist of quite a large proportion of "reformers" doubtless—it remains to be seen whether they will relegate the prize fight to the limbo where lies the race track of unhappy memory.

INCONSISTENT FRUIT GROWERS.

How our complex tariff system is maintained and special interests protected at the expense of the many, is well illustrated by the recent action of Southern California fruit growers in petitioning Senator Flint to be a candidate for re-election. The fruit growers are among the most intelligent and progressive people in our state, and when they are swerved from the cause of tariff reform to which a very large proportion of them are pledged, it shows pretty conclusively that the average good citizen who is in a general way desires to have things made better, cannot be depended upon to persevere in that direction when he imagines that his own personal interests are involved.

The plea which the fruit growers make in requesting Senator Flint to reconsider his determination not to be a candidate for re-election, is based upon his supposed services in securing the continued high protective tariff on California products. Assuming that Senator Flint has done all in this direction which his admirers claim, those among them who pretend to be desirous of a general revision of duties downward and as a consequence of that position are opposed to the influence of Senator Aldrich, in whom the special interests are personified, must be conscious of the fact that they have placed themselves in an indefensible position and are open to the charge of the grossest inconsistency, in degree akin to humbuggery.

If Senator Flint secured for California in the new tariff bill all that he asked for, he got it by paying the price; and the record shows the price that he paid—he voted with Aldrich on every proposition! The action of the fruit growers who signed this petition therefore implies as plainly as though expressed in words, this injunction to Senator Flint: "We appreciate the work you have done for us; we want you to keep it up; give the other "interests" everything that they ask for if necessary, but get all you can for us."

THE COMING LOCAL ELECTIONS.

There is probably no sixth-class city in California that looks more calmly upon the possibilities of the eleventh of April, than does our own small municipality. Other towns are divided on various questions of public policy and have formed tickets and platforms that differ radically from one another and are waging a warm campaign. But in Glendale it is merely a case of a choice between individuals, as all of our people stand practically upon the same platform. This condition of affairs promises as far as present indications can be depended on, a light vote. Somebody is liable to throw a brick or a piece of congealed mud at any time, however, so that the situation is not entirely devoid of possibilities with the election only sixteen days removed. None of the candidates seem to be losing much sleep, but it must not be inferred that all of them are just trusting to Providence: there are two or three workers at large, influenced by the possibilities of proservative jobs and otherwise.

The last legislature worded the law so as to permit the giving of compensation to the members of the board of trustees, if approved by the voters. This question will therefore come up on April 11th, the proposition being to pay each trustee three dollars for attendance at every meeting of the board. Some questions as to the legality of this act exists, as it seems to conflict with the other proviso in the law that no official's salary shall be raised during his incumbency.

The elections for school trustees occur on April 1st, including trustees of both the Grammar schools and the High school. When we reflect that by far the largest proportion of all the tax that we pay, is for our educational institutions, it seems that more attention should be given to this matter of school elections. The voters should not only select good men who will give a proper share of attention to the business, but they should to some extent be prepared to instruct them as to their wishes. There is no doubt but that the present is an era of extravagance in educational circles and unless the voters arouse themselves to the necessities of the situation, conditions in this respect will constantly become worse. Education is used as a word to conjure with and the higher school officials seem to vie with one another in the introduction of new schemes for the expenditure of money on their particular fads and fancies. There is not much doubt but that a large proportion of the alleged improvements in educational methods, demanding new appliances, are simply experiments to please a present fancy and ultimately to be thrown into the scrap heap. The business of furnishing school supplies has grown to vast proportions and the big supply houses have smart salesmen at work all the time introducing their wares. If these drummers succeed in getting the favorable consideration of school principals for the article they offer, the acquiescence of the trustees in the purchase is a comparatively easy matter. The educational qualifications of school principals should not only be taken into consideration in their employment, but their business ability also, particularly their ability to discriminate between the thing really essential and the thing that would "be nice to have." It is a peculiar thing about our republican form of government that the voters at large take more interest in national and state elections which have a comparatively remote bearing upon our affairs, and are likely to neglect the local matters which affect taxation more directly.

THE PASSING OF CANNONISM.

While it has been evident for some time to the unprejudiced observer, that "Cannonism" was doomed, we do not expect to see "Uncle Jo" go down to defeat thus early in the campaign. There was nothing personal in the issue; Cannon merely enforced the rules under which the lower house of congress has done business for several years past, and represented not his personal opinions but a system which goes back to the days of "Czar" Reed, a system which in the past has been of great service in expediting business and in preventing the minority from blocking proceedings. Until Speaker Reed secured the adoption of rules very similar to, if not identical with those which endowed Cannon with such arbitrary power, a Democratic minority was able in a great measure to dictate to the majority; a condition which could not in the nature of things be long tolerated. There being nothing personal in the issue, the conduct of such insurgents as Hayes of California in voting for the formation of a committee on rules with the speaker barred, but voting against the proposition to declare the speaker's place vacant, was perfectly consistent and proper, even if the Los Angeles Times does call Mr. Hayes a "straddler." The victory of the "insurgents" is the natural result of the growing spirit of political independence which is triumphantly asserting itself all over the country. It is one of the indications of the fact that the American people will not submit to dictatorship for very long without upsetting the dictators. The speaker of the house had too great an influence over legislation; had he been endowed with more patriotism, honesty and ability than all of his fellow congressmen combined, the possession of this power would not have been a bad thing. But even his most fervent admirers will scarcely claim infallibility for "Uncle Jo."

The utterances of the "stand-pat" press, particularly in those fearful and wonderful "Direct Wires," are childlike in their attempt to win victory from defeat. The Globe-Democrat of St. Louis is reported as demanding that the "insurgents" go right over to the Democrats as they have forfeited all claims to recognition by the Republican party! The hot-headed Missourian had better endeavor to read wisely the signs of the times. The national convention formulates the platform defining what constitutes Republicanism, and the indications are that when that convention again meets the so-called "insurgents" will be in the saddle with the duty devolving upon them of saying what republicanism is. It must be admitted, however, that the committee on rules has a serious task before it. The rules interpreted and enforced by the different speakers for the past score of years, were a more or less necessary evolution from untenable conditions, and whether they can be greatly improved upon remains to be seen. The fact that Mr. Cannon remains speaker and will have the appointment of the rules committee, is not of so much consequence: the insurgents have demonstrated their ability to depose him whenever they think it necessary, so that Uncle Jo must perform "be good."

AN UNUSUALLY GOOD ENTERTAINMENT.

The program given by the K. of P. at their hall on Thursday evening of last week, was one of the finest ever heard here. It was given by the Bonnell Entertainers of Los Angeles, and the audience which greeted them, about seventy-five in number, seemed almost a frost. They deserved a crowded house.

The program was opened by Miss Ethel Mitchell, cornetist. Her first number, "My Old Kentucky Home," with variations, showed remarkable talent. Each tone was as clear as a bell and the number was heartily encored. Her second selection was "I Love You Truly." Later on the program she rendered very beautifully, "The Rosary," and gracefully responded to an encore.

The next artist to appear was Miss Charlotte Powers, character artist and story teller, late of the Lyceum Bureau of Chicago. Before she had spoken a word she had her audience on her side, and before her selection, "The Wind and the Moon," was finished, it was decided in the minds of her hearers that there "shoo must be some me," and she very kindly consented. Her second number was "Tit for Tat," and evidenced the genuine art which placed her in the Lyceum Bureau circles. As a second response to applause she favored the company with a short comedy skit. Later on the program she appeared with a story "Taking an Elevator," responding again with an encore.

Miss Lotta Buisseret, violin virtuoso, formerly with Eileen Beach Yaw, added more real art to the program, by her excellent renditions. Good violinists are numerous these days, but it is seldom that one hears work of the class contributed by Miss Buisseret. Her captivating manner evidenced much appearance before the public.

Although expecting much, the audience was not disappointed in Mrs. Anna Mottram Craig, soprano. Mrs.

Craig has a voice of unusual pleasing qualities. Her tones are smooth and well placed, showing careful study. The audience was greatly pleased with her renditions. Her first number, "Leave Me Not," by Matto, received a deserved encore, and she gave, "A Little Irish Girl." Later she rendered "Te Ardita" by Arditi.

Messrs. E. M. Bonnell, and E. O. Wartenberg, recently of New York, gave a number of minstrel selections which were well received and encored. The duet by Mr. Bonnell on the harmonica and autoharp, simultaneously, was very clever.

The program was followed by dancing.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Glendale, Cal., March 22, 1910.
Having been nominated for the office of Councilman for the City of Glendale, by my friends, without solicitation on my part, I hereby accept the nomination, and thank the friends who seem to repose confidence in my ability and integrity. If I am elected to the office I will strive to maintain to the town its present good moral tone, and will work for the general good of the town to the best of my ability.

ROY SCANTLAND is visible upon the streets again after a successful case of measles.

ERNEST OWEN reports the sale of a lot located on Putnam street, Casa Verdugo, to W. C. Bradford for $750.

At E. R. Naudain's this week are Mrs. Robt. Pinkerton, of Adair, Iowa, and Mrs. Stebbins, of Algona, Iowa.

Garfield Jones left the first of the week for Mariposa county where he expects to spend some time and will try his hand at mining.

Regular installation exercises were held at the meeting of the Glen Eyrie chapter of the Eastern Star in Masonic hall, Thursday evening.

The monthly dancing party will be given at the Glendale Country Club this evening. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand will be host and hostess for the evening.

Capt. J. M. Wells, our distinguished fellow-townsman, the author of "With Touch of Elbow," will address the veterans of the Soldiers Home at Sawtelle Friday evening of this week.

At the next meeting of the Maids and Matrons, Mrs. V. Price Brown will preside in the absence of Mrs. Menzo Williams, who expects before that time to have started East on a visit to Pennsylvania.

A note from Mr. Wm. Mitchell, who resides at Lomita Park when at home in Glendale, announced his proposed departure in a few days for Europe where he expects to spend some months visiting Italy principally.

Mr. C. H. Eudemiller left Sunday evening for San Diego and Old Mexico. He has gone in the interest of The N. K. Fairbanks Co. of Chicago, the firm he represents in Southern California. He expects to be gone a week or ten days.

Mr. J. C. Beldin, the original cornice man and tin worker of Glendale, whose place of business was at Fourth and Kenwood, has sold his business to the Bell Sheet Metal company of South Pasadena. We understand that Mr. Beldin will leave Glendale soon for Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Teschan have sold their home in the McIntyre-Miner tract, 4th and Glendale avenue, to J. F. Mulgrew. Mr. and Mrs. Mulgrew will occupy their newly acquired home a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Teschan will remain in Glendale for the present.

A great surprise was accorded Mr. W. D. Buck last week by an old boyhood chum whom he had not seen for 45 years, and who dropped in on him from Richland Center, Wis. W. H. Pier is now a wealthy banker in that little city and is out here visiting his son in Pasadena.

Mr. J. I. Anderson of the book store has secured four original views of Glendale and vicinity, consisting of a scene on Second Street, the High School, Casa Verdugo and Lomita Avenue, which have been printed on color and make very attractive souvenirs post cards.

The program was opened by Miss Ethel Mitchell, cornetist. Her first number, "My Old Kentucky Home," with variations, showed remarkable talent. Each tone was as clear as a bell and the number was heartily encored.

Her second selection was "I Love You Truly." Later on the program she rendered very beautifully, "The Rosary," and gracefully responded to an encore.

The next artist to appear was Miss Charlotte Powers, character artist and story teller, late of the Lyceum Bureau of Chicago. Before she had spoken a word she had her audience on her side, and before her selection, "The Wind and the Moon," was finished, it was decided in the minds of her hearers that there "shoo must be some me," and she very kindly consented.

Her second number was "Tit for Tat," and evidenced the genuine art which placed her in the Lyceum Bureau circles. As a second response to applause she favored the company with a short comedy skit. Later on the program she appeared with a story "Taking an Elevator," responding again with an encore.

Miss Lotta Buisseret, violin virtuoso, formerly with Eileen Beach Yaw, added more real art to the program, by her excellent renditions. Good violinists are numerous these days, but it is seldom that one hears work of the class contributed by Miss Buisseret.

Her captivating manner evidenced much appearance before the public. Although expecting much, the audience was not disappointed in Mrs. Anna Mottram Craig, soprano. Mrs.

Your Checks are Receipts

"Pay as you go" is an excellent maxim provided you "pay-by-check." It's foolish to carry money on the person, except for the smallest purchases and incidentals, for aside from the care and inconvenience there is always the danger of theft or loss.

But with a check-book of this bank in your pocket the inconvenience and worry is eliminated. You write out a check for the exact amount of each purchase, your check-stub is a record for reference and the check itself will later be returned to you by the bank and may be retained as a receipt.

The Glendale News

GLENDALE, CAL., MARCH 25, 1910

DR. GARMON IN FLORIDA.

The GLENDALE NEWS:
Dear Sir: We have enjoyed the NEWS very much during our sojourn in the East and South although sometimes delayed in reaching us via Grand Rapids. My wife and I have had quite a varied experience, especially in Michigan, "my Michigan," what with extremes of temperature and severe storms of rain, sleet and snow, we count ourselves fortunate in reaching this comparatively mild climate in time to escape some of the most disagreeable weather of the North, that during the months of February and March. We found many people very desirous of going to California, but are often held back on account of the sacrifice necessary in disposing of property and business interests. In the NEWS of January 8th reference is made to criticism of California fruit, as compared with Eastern. The comparison seems unjust at the present time, for eastern fruit is not now what it used to be. Orchards are being neglected because it is claimed there is not profit enough to justify fertilizing and spraying, the result being that apples are small, knotty and tasteless, while peaches have "yellow," which disease makes them bitter and liable to rot on trees before ripening. No, Michigan is not what it used to be as a fruit-producing state, all because of neglect.

After spending some time in Grand Rapids, one of Michigan's most thriving cities, we came south as far as Cass county, where we spent a couple of months with my brother who was seriously ill; then we came to Jacksonville via Chicago, Cincinnati, Knoxville, Atlanta and Macon, stopping over one day in Knoxville. The most interesting feature of this trip was going over the battlefields and through the towns where battles were fought in which the writer had personal experience. Jacksonville is a city of hotels, boarding and rooming houses. The Seminole, eleven stories high, easily ranks first in size, beauty and comfort.

We shall remain in Florida only so long as the climate continues to agree with us, then turn our faces California-ward where the climate is always agreeable, notwithstanding the occasional complaint of some who seem to suffer more there at 30 degrees above than in the East at 10 or 15 degrees below zero. There is a reason for this as you rightly say, and California homebuilders should look to it that their houses are made comfortable for winter as well as summer, if for no other reason than the gratification and comfort of newcomers. It would pay, especially for hotels, as an advertisement for California, thus giving no reason for complaint.

It would be a great pleasure to write a letter to each of our many friends in California, but that not being quite possible, I trust that those of them who read the NEWS will consider this as a personal letter and be assured we often think of them as being in God's country.

We specially enjoyed the report of the installation of the officers of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. and feel that we missed much by not being present to enjoy the feast of good things of soul and body. The Florida State G. A. R. encampment occurs Feb. 22d, at Gainesville, at which time the Blue and the Gray vie with each other in making camp fires all they should be when brave men meet to recount the glory of other days, a lone senator notwithstanding.

DR. J. O. GARMON.

WANTS A FINDING OF FACTS.

Mr. Editor:

The senator from West Virginia (likewise from Missouri) says an investigation is needed to show him what effect the trusts and monopolies have on food prices and who is "nursing" them. If it is the "tariff" he wants it shown up, even at the expense of exposing deformity in Mr. Aldrich's "child."

Mr. Elkins is plainly steering about right, as in the writer's estimation, he nearly always has been. In the old days, when we were younger, he was the right hand man of James G. Blaine. In political sagacity, common sense and common honesty, all the best equipments for statescraft, Mr. Elkins is the peer of any man in the senate. So, when he rises in his place and demands that discovery be made of the responsibility of the measures of congress or want of such measures for the "feeble splendor" in which the country rolls and founders—on long bills and short purses, we may be sure that there is no "madness in his methods" that we will soon have discovered to us why the purchasing power of salaries today is only about one-half that of salaries of ten or twelve years ago, why a salary of $900 a year would go as far toward supplying the family with food and clothing than as will a salary of $1800 a year now, and, perhaps, why it is that salaries have not raised with the rise of prices on the common necessities of life. These are questions we want solved. Let us hope, Mr. Elkins will persevere and discover their solution. Theories are one thing and irresistible conclusions from facts another thing.

N. C. BURCH

A Fish With Teeth on His Tongue. The biggest of fresh water fishes, the "arapaima" of the Amazon, in South America, which grows to six feet in length, has teeth on its tongue, so that the latter resembles the file and is used as such. Some kinds of trout also have the same peculiarity. Fishes that swallow their prey entire have their teeth so supported on flexible bases as to bend backward, but not forward, in order that their victims shall not escape after they have been once seized. In ages gone by there were ferocious sharks, seventy feet in length, such as would make a mouthful of you without blinking. Plenty of their teeth have been found which are five inches long, whereas the biggest of the teeth belonging to sharks that exist at the present day are one and a half inches long. Speaking of extinct creatures reminds us that all of the early birds—those of early geological times, that is—had teeth, with which they captured the early worms of the same period. It is natural that they should possess a dental equipment, but when they ceased to be carnivorous they had no teeth any longer.

Perhaps.
"I don't have any opinion of these newfangled women's notions," said Mr. Hyde when his wife timidly expressed her desire to join the Woman's Self Improvement society.

"But we learn so much there," ventured Mrs. Hyde.

"Don't believe it!" snapped Mr. Hyde. "Women don't know much; that's a fact, but let 'em stick to their domestic duties and learn them. That's my opinion. Let 'em follow St. Paul's injunction—stay at home and ask their husbands if they want to know anything."

"But, John"—
"I've settled it, and that's enough, Jane."

"But, John, that's what women have been doing all this time, and perhaps that's the reason they don't know much."

And then Mr. Hyde threw his boot at the cat and boxed Freddy's ears for grinning. Pearson's.

Home Course In Domestic Science

III.—Cost of Food In Moderate Homes.

By EDITH G. CHARLTON,
In Charge of Domestic Economy, Iowa State College.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

IT was Ruskin who said, "Sure good is first in feeding people, then in dressing people, then in lodging people and last in rightly pleasing people with arts or science or any other subject of thought."

If Ruskin is right, and we know he is, then it behooves all those who are interested in homemaking and housekeeping to see to it that their duty is well performed; that the results of their labor are not only bringing good to people, but also making good people.

This means improving their physical conditions, training them to higher ideals and truer standards of living.

The standard of life will determine the character of the home, and when ever homes and family life are not what civilization and Christianity teach they should be the cause will invariably be found to be wrong standards.

perible and because of the cost of transportation. They are one of the most easily digested foods; eaten raw or when slightly cooked, and they contain considerable nutriment. But as tissue building food or a meat substitute they are not nearly as valuable as some other articles of the diet. A person would need to eat fourteen oysters to derive a quantity of protein from them equal to that contained in one egg, and one pound of beefsteak is equal in tissue building material to 150 oysters, or about the number contained in three quarts. Thus it readily can be seen that individuals or families may be well fed and never eat an oyster. In providing food on an economical basis the line must sometimes be drawn rather sharply between appetite and hunger.

Prices differ in various localities, and it is impossible to suggest definite menus that everywhere can be provided for a certain sum of money.

However, in the greater portion of this country a selection may be made from the following list of food materials by persons living on from 15 to 25 cents a day:

Beef, mutton, pork or any meat not over 20 cents per pound.

Wheat bread, purchased or homemade.

Butter for the table.

Common cereals.

Suet, lard for cooking.

White flour.

Dried fruits.

Cabbage, carrots and other vegetables in season.

Cane or beet sugar.

Fish.

Bacon.

Coffee served with hot milk occasionally.

Local fruits in season.

Serving Cheap Materials.

This list of foods can be varied from day to day by the skillful housekeeper and will furnish not only pleasing variety in the meals, but the required nourishment. But when the coarser, cheaper foods are used greater care must be taken in their preparation. Any food, no matter how rare and expensive, can be spoiled by carelessness or ignorant cooking, and the commonest food material, presenting perhaps few possibilities for a tempting dish, can be made most appetizing by careful preparation and serving. So it all comes back to the original statement that the cost of the table does not depend so much on the price of food materials as it does on the knowledge and skill of the cook or on the lack of those essentials to success.

When the variety of food from which to make a selection is limited it is necessary to know a number of ways in which to serve the same article as it appears on the table day after day. Oatmeal must be the staple breakfast dish five mornings out of seven, try the addition of a handful of dates from which the stones have been removed. Cook the oatmeal thoroughly in a double boiler or fireless cooker and add the dates about half an hour before serving. It will be necessary, too, very often, to use the cheaper cuts of meat when the family is living on 15 cents a day, but these are more appetizing if carefully prepared than the expensive steaks or roasts that have been improperly cooked. The following recipes may afford variety in the dinner menu and may suggest to the housekeeper ideas in serving some of the cheaper meats:

Canning of Beef.

Two pounds of lean beef cut from round, grated rind of half a lemon, one tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley, one egg, one-half teaspoonful of onion juice, two tablespoonsfuls of melted butter, little grated nutmeg, one teaspoonful of salt and one-quarter teaspoonful of pepper. Chop meat finely and add remaining ingredients in order given. Shape in a roll about six inches long, wrap in buttered paper, place in a dripping pan and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Baste every five minutes with one-quarter cup of butter melted in one cup of boiling water. Serve with esperano sauce.

Esperano Sauce.

Two tablespoonsfuls flour, half a teaspoonful salt, one tablespoonful chopped red pepper or pimento, cup hot water, three teaspoonsful worcestershire sauce and a lemon thinly sliced. Melt butter, add flour and salt and, when blended, pour on hot water. Cook thoroughly, stirring until thickened. Then add chopped pepper, worcestershire sauce and, last, the sliced lemon.

Sauce.

Half cup stock, half cup cream, two tablespoonsfuls flour, teaspoonful salt, half teaspoonful pepper and tablespoonful capers. Add salt and pepper to flour. Dilute with cold water. Add to stock and stir. Add cream and cook with capers.

Pot Roast.

Two pounds chuck beef. Sear all sides with hot fat. Put in

The "Long" Sizies.
The Sizies family was long in person, long drawn out in speech and eternally long about doing things. Over miles of pine hills they were known as the "long" Sizies. Miss Lydia, the eldest, went to a crossroads store to buy Christmas presents. In the course of a half hour she became interested in some blue and scarlet petticoats.

"I'll take one of these petticoats," she said, slowly counting out the price.

The busy proprietor wrapped up the parcel and handed it over with a polite "Something else?"

"I'll take another petticoat."

He did up a second bundle, took her carefully counted money and was turning to the next impatient customer.

"I'll take another petticoat," came the slow drawl.

This went on to the seventh time. The man, being up to his ears in work, ventured a question:

"Buying for the neighborhood, Miss Lydia?"

"I'm buying two apiece for my sisters."

"How many sisters have you?"

"Nine."—Youth's Companion.

Didn't Cut the Ace.

The greatest delight of Pat Sheedy, according to a friend of the famous gambler, was to "double cross" the crooked card sharks.

Sheedy once strolled into a tough gambling resort in the west where he was not known and stood watching the games," the friend relates. "One of the dealers was 'spelling' to several countrymen and had about convinced them to take a chance at his game.

"I'll bet you 2 to 1 that I can shuffle the deck and cut the ace of hearts the first time," he announced.

"I'll take $50 of that if you'll let me shuffle the cards," Pat said.

"The dealer agreed, and the money was staked. The countrymen also made small bets.

"Are you satisfied?" the dealer asked when the cards were shuffled. "The proposition is that I am to cut the ace of hearts the first cut."

"Every one agreed. Then the dealer—he was a tough one—whipped out a big hunting knife and slashed the deck in two. But he didn't take the money. Sheedy had palmed the ace of hearts while shuffling the cards."

Our Safety Valves.

The invention of the safety valve for steam engines has saved thousands of lives and millions of dollars in property. It is an invention that stands prominently to the front in this age of mechanical progress. But nature supplied us each with a safety valve which for effectiveness works better than any made by man. If we did not have this safety valve we could not live twenty-four hours. This safety valve is the perspirative, or sweat gland, and to make sure that we should not run short of the supply she has furnished the body with some two and a half millions of them. If our temperature rose 7 or 8 degrees we should die within a few hours, and yet we could not run, row, indulge in any athletic exercises or even walk safely any distance without increasing our temperature to the danger point if we had no safety valve provided so ingeniously by nature.

Paddy's Cat.

An Irishman, fresh from the "ould sod" secured a job with a lumbering crew in the Minnesota woods. While sound asleep in his bunk one night a lynx slipped in at the open window, espied Paddy's bridle whiskers and promptly pounced on its supposed enemy. A terrific contest ensued, during which Paddy's clothing was reduced to ribbons, but ending happily when the brawny son of Erin secured a half Nelson on the beast and heaved it bodily through the window.

He was instantly surrounded by a score of excited and admiring woodsmen. After examining himself critically Paddy straightened up slowly and remarked with distinct emphasis:

"Bedad, if I knew th' dom mon that owned that cat I'd be affer rammin' me ficht down th' throat av 'im—I wud that!"—Judge's Library.

The Tail of a Fish.

A fish's tail is its wings. Owing to the machinery of muscle set along its spine and to its cleaving form a trout or salmon can dart through the water at a tremendous pace, though its rapid flights, unlike the bird's, are not long ones. It is soon tired. The water is not so friendly to flight as the air. The stroke of the fish's tail is one of great power, and by means of it and the writhing, snake-like flexion of the body a high speed is reached. The strength behind this speed is shown in the way a fish or sea mammal out of the water will raise its tail and strike the ground or boat.

Roundabout Bribery.

At one old time British election a candidate won by means of an umbrella. Sheer absence of mind caused him to leave the gamp behind at every house at which he called to canvass, and of course when it was returned by the voter a sovereign was only a suitable reward for honesty.

Impatience.

"Impatience," said Uncle Eben, "is generally de feelin' you has when you wants somebody else to hurry an' make up fo' de time you's been wastin'."—Washington Star.

Just the Other Way.

"Did you ever hear Gadby say anything particular about me?"

"No. He never was very particular what he said about you."

To pity distress is but human; to relave it is godlike.—Mama.

The Newfoundland society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis is carrying on a vigorous and necessary campaign this year in the island. The death rate from the disease in Newfoundland is very large. About one in every five of the total population dies of it, and what is worse, in the last six years the death rate, which is stationary or decreasing elsewhere, has increased about 50 per cent. This is due largely to the native horror of fresh air in the house.

In order to show that spitting on the sidewalks is dangerous to health, an investigation has been made by Dr. John Robertson, medical health officer of Birmingham, England, which shows that seven per cent of the "spits" collected in public places contained consumption germs. On the other hand the dust collected from the floors of the cottages of the Adirondack Cottage Sanitarium has been found to be free of tuberculosis germs, showing that a careful consumptive is not dangerous.

WATER MEETINGS.

Calls are out for the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Verdugo Canyon Water company, on the afternoon of April 5th. For three years past these meetings have been let go by default, no quorums being present. As a result the old directors have held over. Water owners should take sufficient interest in these annual meetings to turn out to them, as the Verdugo Canyon company controls the source of our water supply and there is no subject of more importance to property owners and others residing here than this. Matters will soon come up the right settlement of which will be of great importance to the community.

The annual meeting of the Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir company, the company which distributes water in the Verdugo road section, is called for April 4th.

Mr. A. R. Ballantyne of Glendale avenue called at the NEWS office on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Ballantyne have been spending the past six months with relatives in Kentucky. He gives an interesting account of conditions as he found them in the mountainous regions of that state. Illustrative of the prevalence of illiteracy, he exhibits a sample ticket prepared for use in the mountain regions where a large proportion of the voters cannot read and write. Every name of a nominee on this ticket contains in the square allotted to it a picture of some familiar object. For instance, a nominee for sheriff tells the voter to make his mark opposite the name in a square with the sheep or the cow, the wagon or whatever object he chooses to associate his name with. It has only been within a year or two past that Kentucky has had a state-wide law regulating educational matters and conditions in that respect are improving but slowly in the mountain regions where the natives possess ample natural ability but are crude and undeveloped almost beyond belief.

TROPICO

Miss Anna Augspurger of Palm Villa is the week-end guest of Mrs. J. H. Pratt of Los Angeles.

A number of the large trees along the San Fernando road have been trimmed during the past week.

The Tropico branch of the Sunshine Society was entertained at the home of the president, Mrs. A. M. Watson, Tuesday afternoon.

Lester Welton of Los Angeles passed some time this week with Mr. and Mrs. Hal H. Davenport at their home on Glendale avenue.

The San Fernando road has been in a somewhat bad condition since the rains in the early part of the week, but are gradually improving.

Mrs. Samuel A. Ayres entertained the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church at her home on Central avenue Tuesday afternoon.

Quite a number of the lodge men and friends of the Masonic lodge at this place attended the stag party which was given in the Masonic hall, Glendale, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. W. T. Gilstrap and Miss Marion Gilstrap of Eugene, Oregon, who are the house guests of Mrs. Myra Shuey of Columbus avenue, are spending the week with friends in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Will J. Blain of Glendale avenue entertained as their guests the past week Messrs. John Gray and Chester Gray of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. Robert Gray of Rialto, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bennett, who for many years resided in Tropico, departed the first of the week for Porterville. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bennett left for the same place Tuesday evening, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. L. C. Rice, who has been appointed as delegate from the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club to the National Federation of Women's Clubs, which meets in Cincinnati, Ohio, in May, contemplates leaving for the East shortly.

Special Easter exercises will be given by the members of the Sunday school and church in the church auditorium next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The public is invited to attend this and all other services of this church.

The members of the bridge whist club of this place gathered at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Baker on Glendale avenue Monday noon. Lunch was served at 1 o'clock and the afternoon was passed in whist and conversation.

A quiet, but pleasant affair this week was the dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seaman at their home on Central avenue in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry Weston. It was the occasion of Mr. Weston's birthday anniversary.

The Thursday Afternoon club of Tropico will entertain the husbands and families of the members in the G. A. R. hall next Thursday afternoon with an Easter party. The affair will be in charge of the social committee of the club, consisting of Mrs. Clyde Carmack, chairman; Mrs. W. A. Hough, Mrs. Frank Ballentyne and Mrs. F. C. Richardson.

Capt. James M. McCloud arrived from Manilla, P. I., the first of the week and is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. E. W. Richardson, of San Fernando road. Capt. McCloud will remain in California until the first of July, when he leaves for New York, where, after a brief stay he will sail for Europe. This dashing young captain, of Uncle Sam's army, is a most entertaining conversationalist, giving most graphic accounts of his recent sojourn in the Philippines.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Chandler very pleasantly entertained with a luncheon at their home on Lincoln place, Monday afternoon. The rooms and table were decorated in red, green and yellow. Plates were set for sixteen, including Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler, A. L. Chandler, Mrs. Margaret Cole and daughter, Miss Helen Cole, Mrs. E. B. Elias, Mrs. Charles L. Peckham and daughters, Gladys and Frances, and Miss Bessie Chandler.

Mrs. W. H. Bullis entertained with a luncheon complimentary to Mrs. E. E. Peters, formerly of this place, but now of Wyoming, who is passing some time with friends here, at her home on Central avenue, Tuesday. After the luncheon, which was served at noon, the afternoon hours were pleasantly whiled away in needlework and conversation. The guests present included Mrs. F. E. Peters, Mrs. F. C. Richardson, Mrs. Clyde Carmack, Mrs. J. H. Webster, Mrs. W. A. Hough, Mrs. John Hobbs, Mrs. Andrew Stevenson, Mrs. J. A. Logan, Mrs. A. O. Conrad and Mrs. Hal H. Davenport.

The Philathea and Baraca classes of the First Presbyterian church of Tropico, gave a social at the church parlor last Friday evening. There was a full attendance of the members of both classes. Of the sixty invited guests there was a generous presence. Judge Wilbur, Arthur Letts and other prominent leaders of Los Angeles were detained by an important Y. M. C. A. meeting. Judge Wilbur sent his regrets hoping for better luck next time. After an excellent musical program.

gram and a number of interesting games, refreshments were served. The Baraca class is making encouraging progress in its organization of a band. Several members have their instruments and are well along in their practice.

Mrs. E. M. Davids of Laurel avenue, Tropico, entertained a company of friends today from Los Angeles. After a delightful luncheon had been served, games were enjoyed by the guests.

The home was tastefully decorated with pink camillas, and pink and white stocks. Later in the afternoon, the ladies were taken for a tour of inspection of the Western Art Tile works of Tropico, of which Mr. Davids is manager. Those who enjoyed the delightful affair were Mrs. C. D. Jones, Mrs. C. H. Towles, Mrs. W. W. Martin, Mrs. L. Lindsay, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. S. A. Wiley, Mrs. J. H. Samson, Mrs. M. Pickering, Mrs. E. D. Severance of Glendale; Mrs. Fannie Eagon, Mrs. M. A. David, Miss Gladys Lindsay, Miss Anna David, Mrs. James Pickering and Mrs. John Pickering.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
My wife has left my bed and board and I will not be responsible for any debts or bills she may contract.

A. L. CHANDLER.

SUNDAY SERVICES WITH TROPICO METHODISTS.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.; preaching at 11 a. m. Subject: "The Resurrection of Christ. Did Christ Die? Was It a Real Death and Resurrection? What Does It Mean to Us?"

At 7:30 p. m. the Sunday school and choir will render an Easter program. The public is invited.

The Epworth League received twenty new members into their ranks at their meeting last week.

NOTES FROM TROPICO PRESBYTERIANS.

A union meeting of the Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the Presbyterian church was held at the home of Mrs. S. A. Ayers on Central avenue Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. S. E. Brown, Mrs. A. W. Collins and Miss Phoebe Adams assisted on the program.

Last Wednesday evening the annual banquet of the members and supporters of the church was held in the church parlor. Reports from all the departments of the church were heard at this time.

Next Sunday morning a special sermon will be preached by the pastor, and at the Sunday school appropriate exercises will be rendered.

Sunday morning, April 3rd, the regular communion will be held. Reception of new members will also be held at this time.

MRS. WILLIAM J. DOUST RETURNS HOME.

Mrs. William J. Doost, who has been spending several months with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Elias and other relatives, left for her home in the northern city at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. While here Mrs. Doost was the recipient of many social attentions, and was shown many prominent Southern California points. The last social event which was tendered in honor of Mrs. Doost was an oyster supper, given by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler at their home on Cypress avenue, Saturday evening. A program of music and recitations was given on that occasion. Decorations were in red, white and green. Covers were laid for fifteen. For about three weeks during the early part of Mrs. Doost's visit, Mr. Doost was in Tropico, and it is needless to say that both of the visitors are charmed with this quiet little home.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The Irish Saint and the custom of the Irish people proved very interesting subjects for the many members of the Thursday Afternoon Club who gathered together to accept of the hospitality of Mrs. Halleck, Mrs. Barker and Miss Hibben at the home of the former on Moore avenue on the 17th of March.

After attending to the usual amount of business, the following delightful program was given with Mrs. McClure as chairman for the day. Mrs. D. C. Campbell gave a very instructive talk on Ireland and to the dismay of many of the ladies they found themselves greatly lacking in geographical and commercial knowledge of the island.

A solo, "Kathleen Mavourneen," and also an encore by Mrs. L. B. Green were well rendered and thoroughly appreciated. Miss Hunter gave a full account of the motive and life of Saint Patrick.

Mrs. W. H. Bullis explained about the real appearance and growth of the shamrock, then read an Irish take-off on the American Women's Club which the Irish girl called "an institution for the prevention of common sense."

Mrs. Dora Gibson told in her own interesting way of the peculiarities of Irish music.

Mrs. Nesom pleased her audience with a violin selection from the opera "Thais."

Delicious refreshments were served and a lively social hour closed the meeting.

THE WEATHER.

The rainfall of Monday last only measured about three-quarters of an inch, but was of inestimable value to Southern California. It will almost assure a fair hay crop and good crops in nearly all cases where the land has received proper attention. The prospect for deciduous fruits is unusually good.

WEST GLENDALE

WEST GLENDALE NOTES.

Mrs. Pixley, daughter and son of Hawthorne street, have returned from an extended eastern trip.

Mrs. Davidson of Los Angeles is a recent visitor with friends on Hawthorne street.

Mrs. Runkin is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Carl Mertens of Hawthorne street. Coming here from the East she naturally fell in love with our country at first sight.

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. J. L. Russ, 1229 Milford street, were Mrs. Alvin Dunn of Eagle Rock.

Mrs. Sessions and Mrs. Baicook of Los Angeles and Miss Grace Ludlow of Burbank.

"Father Stork" was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Connor of North Glendale last evening. He left as a souvenir a 12-lb. boy. Mother and baby are doing fine.

Mrs. T. Grady and family were the guests of Mrs. Patch last week at her home on Ivy street.

Mrs. C. B. Franklin of 1222 Ivy street, is entertaining her mother, Mrs. O'Leary of Reno, Nev.

Material is on the ground for the erection of an elegant residence at the corner of Hawthorne and Pacific streets. When finished it will be a very imposing structure.

Mr. and Mrs. Gleske and children of Los Angeles were guests of Mrs. C. E. Clay, 1517 Ivy street, on Sunday last.

The ladies of the Adventist church will hold a cottage meeting at the home of Mrs. Wm. Hyatt on West Fourth street, Wednesday afternoon.

Lumber is on the ground at the corner of Hawthorne and Pacific streets, where it is being built for the erection of a building to be used as a grocery store.

Building in this vicinity goes merrily on. New houses in sight on all sides.

Mrs. Gervais, who recently built a bungalow on Fifth street, has sold it, and has the foundation in for another one on the same street between Columbus and Central avenues.

A very fine home is being built on Fifth west of Pacific; one also nearby on Oak street.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH NOTES.

The spring vacation of this school will commence April 4th, and continue for one week, instead of a two-weeks vacation beginning the 25th of March, as stated last week.

More new pupils all the time. Three more this week.

An election will be held in the school building on April 1st, for the purpose of electing a trustee.

The much-needed sanitary drinking fountains are being installed this week. There will be one on either floor of the building, and one on both sides of the playground.

An entertainment for the benefit of the athletic club will be given on the evening of April 1st in K. of P. hall. A very interesting program has been arranged, both from local and outside talent, and no one can afford to miss hearing this treat.

The fair and supper at the Mission Church last Tuesday was a decided success in every way. And the ladies who devoted so much of their valuable time to it, were certainly well repaid.

No one begrimed the price of the supper, and there wasn't one person who arose from the table with that "hungry and all-gone" feeling. The fish pond and candy booth drew the grown-ups as well as the children. The apron and bonnet counter was very well patronized. Altogether about $48 was realized.

Owing to the near approach of Children's Day there will not be any exercises at the Sunday school on Easter Sunday. Special music will be given at the regular services in the evening.

WEST GLENDALE PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

A social tea and bean bag tournament will be held on Thursday afternoon, March 31, 3 to 5 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Nanno Woods, vice president, Milford street, first house west of Brand boulevard. Everybody invited. Pupils of all Glendale schools are asked to join in the fun. For a nominal fee one can compete in the bean bag tournament and in the bumble-puppy tournament. Games will be held on the kindergarten playground, the lot adjoining Mrs. Woods' residence. Tea and cake served. Thursday, 3 to 5, March 31.

A NEW INDUSTRY IN THE VALLEY.

The T. H. McDonald Gun company is not manufacturing fire arms, as the title might imply, but is making at their shop on San Fernando Road and Park avenue a patent "hydrocarbon gun" for the extermination of squirrels and gophers. The machine is warranted to do the work and the factory is kept busy turning them out, having a hundred orders ahead.

Mr. McDonald also gives a demonstration of a new pump for which he is taking orders, that works on a new and simple principle and is said to be much cheaper than any other style of pump on the market, being equally satisfactory for either deep or shallow wells.

Whose grocery bill do you pay? If you buy of a credit store you pay your own and help pay the bills of some delinquent. Make the saving. We sell for cash. J. N. Sanborn, Bank Bldg., Glendale and Fourth Sts. Sunset 911, Home 1124.

ALCOHOL AS A MEDICINE.

PART II

By Edgar Leavitt.

It may be remarked that the Anti-Alcohol medicine men are not confined to any one school of the science, nor merely to the "Faddists," as some might call them; but they are the most progressive men of all schools of thought in the profession.

The homeopaths, who are preferred by many, as well because they are convinced of the truth of the theory, as because the amount of drug put into the system is so infinitesimal, and because they are convinced from experience that it is as effective, if not more so, than "the old school," the homeopaths have a full line of remedies prepared entirely without alcohol.

The naturopaths, the chiropractors, the osteopaths, the psychopathologists, the Christian Scientists, etc., can have no need of alcoholics, in any form or for any purpose; and altogether, the drift of the more intelligent thought, both inside and outside of the medical profession is away from their use.

The great temperance hospital in Chicago (I do not know what system of medicine is employed there) claims that its records incontestably demonstrate the vast superiority of a medical treatment that has no use for any form of alcohol.

As a Stimulant.

Various forms of alcohol have had a great vogue, as a tonic it was almost in universal use as a domestic medicine, at least this was the pretense, and whenever extraordinary exertion was to be made, or exposure to the elements undertaken, it was thought that the homeopaths have a full line of remedies prepared entirely without alcohol.
